Sat 01/01/1994 - ??/??/1998	Donald Jones was a member of the Gangster Disciples. Bill Muto was also a member.	Jones, Donald - Discovery Court Transcripts pg 95
Mon 04/11/1994	Donald Jones was placed on three years probation for delivery of a controlled substance, court ordered violation, robbery, and residential burglary.	Jones, Donald - Discovery Court Documents pg 21 Case No. 93JD1525
Fri 06/17/1994	When Jerry Franklin landed in Chicago, his probation officer was supposed to meet him at the airport to take him into custody. Julian didn't see him there so he kept going and took a cab directly to Rogers Park. He didn't have anywhere lined but to stay, but he decided he'd figure it out when he got there. The same night he arrived back in Rogers Park, June 17, 1994, was the same night his sister, [Deleted Object] died in a car accident.	Smith, Andrew - Interview 3/26/2016 pg 3
Fri 06/17/1994	When Jerry Franklin got dropped off on a street corner in Rogers Park he saw his friend [Deleted Object]. He told Tio he didn't have anywhere to stay and Tio told him he can stay at his place. Julian and Tio were on their way to Tio's place to drop off Julian's things and to pick up some weed, and that's when Julian saw his sister, [Deleted Object], by chance. She gave them a ride to Tio's house. That was the last time Julian saw her. She and her boyfriend were killed in a car accident that same night. Their ten-month-old son was in the back seat and survived the accident with a broken leg. "We were very close. That sent me spiraling. After that, that was the most I got arrested. She was going to college. She'd tell me, 'Don't worry, I'll get us out of this.' I just drifted that whole summer, drugs and violence. I wasn't angry, I was lost. That was the first time that I fully embraced that jail and prison came with the territory, and I wasn't afraid."	Smith, Andrew - Interview 3/26/2016 pg 4
09/??/1994 - 10/??/1995	Since Jerry Franklin was a ward of the State, DCFS usually picked him up from court or Audy Home and they'd just drop him on any corner he told them to in the neighborhood. They did not verify that he had somewhere to live. Julian was homeless. "I surfed, Martin Taylor's mom, [Deleted Object], [Deleted Object]'s place, is where I mostly stayed." Julian started "going to jail a lot more." He was in Audy Home for "several months." The longest time was from September, 1994 through April, 1995. From there he went to a juvenile recovery home for three months, called Gateway Alcohol & Drug Treatment Centers. It was then that he was diagnosed with depression. "At no point did I feel depressed during that time. I can recall when I did experience depression and I can tell you about that when we get to it." Julian was at Gateway for about a year and then moved to a group home, and from there to independent living program in North Chicago. He was with this program from August, 1995 until October, 1995. While there he worked two full-time jobs, one at Taco Bell and one at McDonalds. He also got his GED.	Smith, Andrew - Interview 3/26/2016 pg 4j

Some of the older guys were [Deleted Object], [Deleted Object] (JD), and [Deleted Object]. Most of the older guys got jobs and eventually aged-out.	Golden, Anthony - Interview 3.30.16 pg 2
~ ??/??/1995	Paul Jones told Rachel Meriwether that back then, the older guys were telling the younger guys to go to school and to stay out of trouble, but the young guys wanted the money. It was by choice [that Ashley and his peers started hustling]. "We were treated like kids, but we wanted the money like the older guys had." Ashley explained that once he and his friends made the decision to join the "street life" of selling drugs, the older guys would then supply them and teach them the business. "Money drew me in."	Jones, Anna - Interview 4.23.2016

Keon went to the Audy Home for two weeks, then the case was thrown out.	Golden, Anthony - Interview 3.30.16 pg 3
??/??/1995	According to Carol Martin, Donald Jones and Paul Jones also got their street life exposure "with Anthony Golden. Donald was growing up fast." She could tell he was becoming more a part of the street culture when she would see him out and ask what he was doing out on the street, and he'd respond somewhat disrespectfully, "my auntie know I'm out here." "He started talking back, maybe 14, 15 years old."	Martin, Carol - Interview 4/27/2016 pg 3
??/??/1995	"They stayed with us a lot." [Deleted Object] could not provide a specific timeline for when the Jameson boys may have lived with him but he said, "[JamesonAnna] was gone for maybe two years], during which time the Jameson boys often stayed with Carol Martin and family. Carol Martin is [Deleted Object]'s mother. Smoke explained that Anna Jones was in New York for that period, but he wasn't sure why. "Maybe visiting family." When asked where Don Simon was during this time, Smoke said, "he was bouncing", meaning he moved around from job to job and house to house. Smoke told me Anna Jones and Don Simon worked, but he wasn't sure what they did for a living. Though I made several attempts at trying to get more specific information, Smoke could only give me bits an pieces. His recall may have been deeply impacted by his seizures, as he hinted at early on in our meeting.	Franklin, Jerry - Interview 5/31/2016
??/??/1995	When Anna Jones was in New York the Jameson boys would also often stay at Tio's house. "Tio is dead now." Tio was one of Paul Jones's co-defendants on his manslaughter case. He did some time in juvenile detention for a stolen care as well. At 13 years old he was on probation. "I did a lot of gangbanging, stealing, I was bad as hell. Donald liked gym, math, and science classes. He attended for a few months and then was kicked out for truancy and fighting. "I just stopped going...I heard they were passing out slips that day [for the kids who were being expelled] and someone told me I was getting one so I just didn't go."	Jones, Donald - Interview 3.21.16 pg 4
??/??/1995 - ??/??/1996	When Donald Jones did attend school, he would cut classes to hustle. He would go in for the start of the day, attend some classes, leave for lunch, smoke some weed, hustle, and then not go back. He did this so often that they kicked him out.	Jones, Donald - Interview 3.21.16 pg 4
??/??/1995 - ??/??/1996	"You could tell when you needed to leave [school] early because something was gonna go down. It happened every couple of weeks." On the south side, yes. Not north. That's why I moved north. I didn't want my children to live through what I lived through."	Martin, Carol - Interview 4/27/2016 pg 3
